

MTIP is looking for an Investment Analyst

MTIP is a pan-European healthtech growth capital investor based in Basel, Switzerland. We invest in digital health and digitally-connected medical device companies, with offerings that provide clear health-related economic benefits. Our entrepreneurial investment team, which has complementary private equity skills and exceptional deal-making capabilities, actively works with our portfolio companies to boost growth. MTIP efficiently deploys capital to unlock value and generate attractive returns for our investors.

We are looking for an investment professional on an analyst level to strengthen and support the investment team. We seek a dynamic, entrepreneurial person with strong attention to detail and an owner mentality.

Role & Responsibilities

- Investment Analysts are expected to support multiple MTIP investments as junior deal team members, during sourcing, execution, monitoring and exit phases. This role requires the ability to work well in teams, but also to be a self-starter to progress. Origination is a core responsibility of junior deal team members, where they are expected to learn how to assess the most attractive investment opportunities in line with MTIP's investment criteria.
- Specific responsibilities include:
 - Origination: Actively source and screen new investment opportunities
 - Support the portfolio management of selected deals
 - Provide transaction support
 - Support exit process for relevant portfolio companies
 - Expected to contribute to key value creation initiatives

Candidate Profile, Experience & Qualifications

- 1-2 years of investment experience OR recent joiner with 2-4 years if previous relevant experience in the medical sector
- Experience in the start-up environment, with focus on healthcare products
- Focused competency in digital health, cancer patient care or other relevant experience
- University degree in medicine, ideally complemented with a MBA
- Strong awareness of ESG relevant topics
- Excellent written and verbal communication and presentation skills in English (ideally in German as well)
- Willingness to work from the MTIP office on a daily basis

What we offer:

- Varied, challenging and exciting tasks in a dynamic and international environment
- Enriching work environment with a modern workplace in the heart of Basel
- Competitive compensation and various company benefits

Help us empower innovation that improves lives!

Contact

Dr. Christoph Kausch – recruiting@mtip.ch